Bing Crosby and Lloyd Mangrum, top-flight golf professional, are here for the National Pro-Amateur Golf Championship staged this week end by Mr. Crosby for the benefit of local youth activities and several charities.

Top Men In Sport, Entertainment, Here For Golf

Bing Crosby's $50,000 National Pro-Amateur golf championship opens today at Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula Country Club, with the 140 pros and 140 amateurs paired off in a split field. On Friday they change courses for the second 18 holes.

Saturday the field will be cut to the low 40 teams, and the pros in the money, at Pebble Beach, with the same on Sunday. The finishers will come in during a "live" nationwide television broadcast.

Dr. Carey Middlecoff is making his only Pacific Coast appearance at the Crosby clambake. All the other greats of professional golf will be on hand, including Frankie Stranahan, winner of the Los Angeles open last week end.

Thirty qualifying spots were filled Tuesday when 100 players competed at Pebble Beach for the coveted spots in the tournament.

Low Scorer in the qualifying round was Bill Booe, of Bridgeport, Conn., with a 69. He was a Yale place kicker during his football years.

Some of the great entertainers taking their swings for charity are Bob Hope, Bob Crosby, Fred MacMurray, Dean Martin, Dennis O'Keefe, Richard Arlen, Gordon McRae, Randolph Scott, Phil Harris, and Guy Madison. Stars in the field of baseball and football are Verne Stephens, Jerry Priddy,

Peninsula Schools To Have Sputnik Inspired Survey

By Wilma Cook

At the invitation of the Monterey and Pacific Grove school superintendents, the trustees of the Monterey Peninsula School Districts met last night at Pacific Grove Junior High School and passed a motion:

"That this group (the Peninsula school boards and officials) undertake an evaluation of education on the Peninsula, the extent of which and methods by which it is to be effected to be determined by this group."

A second motion was passed after the group had consumed coffee and cup cakes, served by a flock of pretty Pacific Grove junior high school girls.

"Each school board shall appoint a representative to meet

Council Says No To More Street Lights, Oversize Sign, Cutting Cypresses

No real sparks flew, no tempers flared, and no Carmel tradition was in serious peril last night, as the City Council steadily ground through its four-hour-long agenda. Requests both to cut down trees and to add street lights were turned down with equanimity—and in unanimity. An effort to win approval for a business sign of excessive size was referred back to the planning commission where it had previously had hard sledding.

Some routine new-and-old city business was handled in almost overmeticulous and minute detail, while other such business was postponed for further consideration to specific or indefinite future times.

A new truck — "to be painted red" — was bought for $3,749.33—well under the $4,000 budgeted for it. And 17 items of used bargain-counter office furniture were bought for $225. Action adding $15,000 to the unencumbered reserve fund restored that city nest-egg to the amount of $108,7344.31—which it had contained a year-and-a-half ago.

And former City Councilman Francis Whitaker was sincerely thanked for his gift of an incense cedar—a "living Christmas tree"—to the city.

Every resolution during the long evening session was passed without a dissenting vote.

Last minute, just before adjournment, action of the Council was its Resolution No. 1617, initiated by Mayor John Chitwood, which placed the City on record as favoring the establishment of the talked-about new army general hospital in the Fort Ord area.

Final decision was the fixing of the next adjourned meeting of the Council, which will begin at 5:00 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. Earlier it had been decided that the Council would meet at the City Hall the preceding day, next Tuesday, also at 5:00 o'clock, to hear from property owners in the Junipero from Ocean to Fifth area where additional landscaping and a revised parking pattern have been proposed.

Although the Council approved trimming of trees requested by Mrs. Elyse Hopkins, Mrs. David Marshall, and by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, it balked at authorizing the cutting down of three small cypress trees, which Mrs. Hopkins had sought. Apropos of this, Councilman Allen Knight suggested that efforts be made to get the utility company to put its lines underground.

Mrs. Roxanna Rogers' request for more street lighting in Carmel received short shrift from the Council. Mayor Chitwood pointed out that it would be out of keeping with Carmel tradition to add more bright lights over the city's

Come See For Yourself, Say Surf 'N Sand Owners In Fuss Before Council

Nearest approach to fireworks at last night's essentially polite-and-mild-mannered City Council meeting flashed faintly when discussion of a request by the Carmel Protective Association for Council support in its effort to appeal a decision of the State Beverage Alcohol Board to permit sale of liquor, starting January 30, in what was originally proposed as the Pink Elephant and which opens today as the Surf 'n Sand drug store.

Elwood Wilson, attorney for the Protective Association, which has long fought the effort of Paul Chedester and Robert Aebersold to introduce liquor sales in their now just opened store, said that he felt that the state alcohol control board had failed to support its own attorney, whom he quoted as having said that a six-month trial operation, simply as a drug store, should precede any consideration of the granting of a liquor license to the Surf 'n Sand. This view was corroborated by the Association's H. L. Ireland who said that his organization would, in any event, appeal the decision of the state alcohol board.

City Attorney John Morse, who had also attended the meeting of

Group Forms For Advancement Of Science Education

There will be a public meeting tonight to organize the Monterey Peninsula Association for the Advancement of Science and Mathematics Education. All interested persons are invited to attend at 8:00 o'clock in the Carmel High School Cafeteria, and to participate in the deliberations. Temporary chairman, Dr. B. Frank Gillette, will explain the purposes and structure of the association and will preside over the adoption of a constitution and the preliminary organization.

"Recent events have focused the nation's attention upon the fact

Public Pre-election Meeting Monday In Carmel Valley

A-night before election roundup forum on the question of annexation of Tularcitos and Carmelo school districts to Carmel Unified school district will be conducted by the Carmel Valley Association at the Community Center in Carmel Valley Village on Monday evening starting at 8:00 o'clock. (The Carmel Valley Association was formerly known as the Carmel Valley Property Owners' Association.) This is the first meeting of all Valley residents on the school annexation subject. Separate meetings were held in both Valley school districts and a petition, requesting annexation, signed by the necessary number of voters, was presented to Miss Gladys Stone, county superintendent of schools. Miss Stone then asked the County Board of Supervisors to set next Tuesday as the date for Valley residents to vote on the annexation issue.

Purpose of the forum meeting on election eve is to establish facts for guidance of voters, rather than to conduct a mere debate for influence of the voters.

All residents of the Carmel, Tularcitos, and Carmelo school districts, especially parents of school

Golf

Thursday and Friday — Bing Crosby Invitational Tournament, Cypress and MPCC.

Saturday and Sunday — Bing Crosby Invitational Tournament, Pebble Beach.

Saturday, Jan. 11 — Palma High (Salinas) at Carmel, 7:00 p.m.

PADRE CAGERS AT SAN LORENZO FRIDAY; HOST PALMA SATURDAY NIGHT

Carmel High's basketball squads are in for double duty this weekend as they travel to Felton Friday night for a pair of league games with the San Lorenzo Cougars and then entertain Palma High of Salinas in a pair of practice jousts on Saturday night. Both nights should furnish plenty of competition for the Padres as San Lorenzo is close to the top of the varsity division and Palma has knocked over some good ones this season. The hustling Palma lads clipped the classy Gilroy varsity in an early season practice tilt and looked plenty good against the Salinas High varsity.

San Lorenzo is making its debut in CCAL hoop competition this season and the Cougars appear to be a welcome addition to the cozy B-division circuit. With the addition of San Lorenzo, the CCAL B-division will have eight schools participating in all the major sports. Under the capable hands of Coach Wayne Richards, San Lorenzo has come with a rush in the past few seasons and is considered on an athletic par with the rest of the schools in the B-division. Although the Padres have used their junior-varsity squads to play practice games with the Cougars, this will be the first meeting between varsity squads of the two schools.

Saturday night's 7:00 o'clock doubleheader with Palma offers a pair of games which should be close in both the lightweight and varsity divisions. The Chieftans are equipped with exceptionally good shooters this season and have good height in the front line. Against Coach Hagen's Gilroy five, the Palma rebounders whipped the Mustangs two to one to provide most of the damage to Gilroy's hopes of an undefeated season.

Coach Dan Yurkovich will open with a Padre quintet which averages well over six feet and strong enough to hold off the opposition around the boards. At the forwards will be Phil Durbrow (6-3) and Bill Hicks (6-1) and at the guards Dale Dawson (6-0) and Frank Wallace (5-11). Fred Nelson, a 6-2 pivotman, has improved tremendously during past weeks and has latched onto the starting spot at center. The sturdy football tackle is rugged around the boards and has developed a soft jump-shot which has been hitting consistently.

Currently riding a two-game win streak in league play, the Padre lightweights will be going all out to get number three at the expense of the San Lorenzo Babes. Fresh troops on the floor have allowed the Padre Babes to put on a sticky defense which has held their opponents to less than 10 field goals per game. Led by aggressive rebounding of Pete Willcox and John Doud the Little Padres have been giving the opposition only one shot at the basket. Walt Helm, David Farr, and Russ Wise have been supplying most of the scoring punch for the Babes who have been short on scoring but long on defense. Shock troop units due for plenty of action this Friday and Saturday nights are forwards Pete DePetra, Larry Dufur, Toby Edson, and Ron Faia; guards David Hansen, Phil O'Shea, Pete Osborne, and Mike Draper, and centers Pat Boyle and Mike Dunham.

Basketball action on both nights is slated for a 7:00 o'clock tip-off in the lightweight game and an 8:30 starting time for the varsities.

Jackie Jensen, Lefty O'Doul, Bob Lemon, Ralph Kiner, Ernie Nevers, Marshall Duffield, Bones Hamilton, Dutch Conlan, Julie Bescos, John Brodie, and Bob Reynolds.

Local amateurs taking their swings with the world's greatest golfers will be Stan Moore, Dick Nicholas, George Gallios, a winner two years ago, Neil DeVaughn, and Bob Goldwater, father of Carmel High's jolting fullback. Goldwater was originally paired with Mike Souchak but lost the big ex-footballer to Bob Hope when Jimmy Demaret signed the sick list.

Sure to draw a large gallery today at Cypress are Bob Hope and Mike Souchak who are scheduled to leave the first tee at 11:40. Last year's pro-am winners, Dr. Carey Middlecoff and Ed Crowley, tee off from Cypress at 11:07. Two foursomes ahead of Middlecoff and Crowley will be Jay Hebert, last year's pro champ, and his partner Roger Kelly, one of California's amateur kingpins. Frank Stranahan, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, also tackles rugged Cypress Point on the first day and has a 9:00 o'clock starting time. Venerable E. J. Dutch Harrison, runner-up to Stranahan in the Los Angeles Open, is slated for a 10:30 starting time at Cypress. Golf fans who like the prodigious hitter who knocks them a mile off the tee should catch George Bayer at the Country Club. Bayer has an 8:50 starting time and is paired with Lefty O'Doul, a former pro-am winner. Ken Venturi, San Francisco's brilliant professional and golf's rookie of the year, gets away at 11:10 at the Country Club and in the following foursome will be Lloyd Mangrum, one of golf's greatest shotmakers and a former winner of the 'Crosby'.

Host Bing Crosby and his new wife, Kathy, will be on hand. They are living at the Crosby home on the 13th fairway at Pebble Beach.

Tickets are $2 for each of the first two days, and $3 for each of the last two days. A season ticket is $7 for four days, and $5 for the last two days.

Members of the Carmel Youth Center will be manning booths at the tournament, selling coffee, drinks and sandwiches. All profits from these booths are for the Youth Center.

The $50,000 tournament is made possible by B. C. "Bud" Gould of Detroit, Mich., who is buying the movie and TV rights to the tournament for $35,000. Bing Crosby still puts up his $15,000 to make it a $50,000 purse, the third largest in American golf.

As in past years, the entire proceeds from this greatest of golf tournaments will go to charity and a great part of the charitable work has been done right here on the Peninsula. The beautiful youth center buildings in Carmel, Pacific Grove, Seaside, and Monterey are the result of Bing's Clambake.

Zenas Potter Has One Man Show At Carmel Gallery

Zenas L. Potter has a one man show in the George Beardsley room at the Carmel Art Association Gallery on Dolores Street. Mr. Potter returned to Carmel this summer after a year of painting in Europe. His paintings will remain on exhibition until January 15 when a one man show of the work of Wellington S. C. Yuan will open.

New watercolors by Association members are also being shown in the Beardsley room and oils in the main gallery. These pictures will remain on exhibit through January.

Easy come Easy go

Most people take water for granted—until they are deprived of it. As long as there is an abundant supply and it is easily available, its true value is not fully appreciated. Water has to be brought from many miles away, it has to be tested constantly for its purity, and it arrives in your home "special delivery" at the lowest possible cost. Millions of dollars have been spent in order to provide you with one of the finest water supplies in the land.

Perhaps if we thought occasionally of what it would be like to be without water, we would be more appreciative that we have all we want, when we want it, and for such a nominal price.

DR. WALTER LEHMANN —PHOTO BY JOHN LIVINGSTONE

BY ROSALIND SHARPE

In his quiet, unassuming, intellectually alive way, Dr. Walter Lehmann is one of the most stimulating men in town. A top surgeon in Germany which he left in 1935 because of his opposition to the Hitler regime, he was later chief surgeon at two of the biggest hospitals in Albania and in 1937 became private physician to King Zog and the royal family.

In 1939, only two days before the Italian invasion, Dr. and Mrs. Lehmann and their two sons, Klaus and Hans, left Albania for the United States. They took the last boat out. The following day, no one could leave Albania.

Dr. and Mrs. Lehmann feel that in this move they were prompted by intuition; for there were no external signs or tokens of the coming invasion. It was a surprise to them when they landed in Rome a few days later and heard that Albania had been invaded.

Although Dr. Lehmann had vaguely planned to come to the United States, he did not plan to come in 1939, and still felt that some strange force caused him to get out at exactly the time he did and to change his Albanian money into American dollars only twenty-

School Unification Committee To Look Over Carmel High

Members of the Carmel Valley School Unification Committee have asked Carmel High School Principal Warren Edwards to meet with them tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock in the school library to answer informally pertinent questions about Carmel High's curriculum and policy and to tour the campus to see plant facilities. The committee wishes to be fully acquainted with these matters in order to present facts to Valley residents before they go to the polls on Tuesday to decide whether or not Carmelo and Tularcitos School districts shall annex to Carmel.

Principal Edwards will tell them that if the two Valley districts vote for annexation, and are accepted by the Carmel district, Carmel High School will need three or four more classrooms in addition to the seven classrooms, one science laboratory, toilet buildings and a connecting corridor necessary to accommodate Carmel district students next year. The teaching staff increase necessary for Carmel High's operation next year is six teachers, according to Mr. Edwards. If Carmel Valley schools annex, ten teachers must be added to the present faculty, he estimates. The proposed new laboratory will be the third in daily use by science students at Carmel High School, added Principal Edwards.

Festival Quartet Plays Here Saturday For Music Society

The Festival Quartet appears in Carmel on Saturday evening under the auspices of the Carmel Music Society. The concert will be at Sunset School Auditorium starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Quartet players are all artists-in-residence during the summer at the Aspen Festival. They are Victor Babin, pianist; Szymon Goldberg, violinist; William Primrose, violist, and Nikolai Graudan, 'cellist.

Victor Babin, male half of the Vronsky and Babin two-piano team, gives concerts in America and Europe besides playing at Aspen. He is also a composer with his Second Concerto for Two Pianos being given its world premiere this season with the Cleveland Orchestra under George Szell. He and his wife, Vitya Vronsky will be soloists.

Szymon Goldberg is musical director of the government backed Netherlands Orchestra in Amsterdam.

William Primrose is the most famous violist of our time. He was first violist of the NBC Symphony under Toscanini for five years and in succeeding years as recitalist and soloist with orchestras, grew into the leading virtuoso of his instrument. In 1935 he was made a Commander of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth II.

Nikolai Graudan, 'cellist, is one of the foremost exponents of the unaccompanied Bach works for 'cello and has toured the world as a recitalist and as soloist with leading orchestras.

FLIES TO HAWAII

Dr. Flint Leaves Monterey College For Foothill J. C.

Dr. Calvin C. Flint telephoned his decision to become president and superintendent of Foothill Junior College to Dr. Robert C. Smithwick, president of the newly formed Los Altos-Palo Alto district on Tuesday morning. Dr. Flint will ask the Monterey school district to release him from his contract as president of Monterey Peninsula Junior College in time to assume his new duties by March 1.

A Carmel resident, Dr. Flint has been president of MPC since its founding in 1947. The Foothill Junior College district board offered Dr. Flint a four year contract to head their new college, which, as yet has no campus and has offered no courses. His salary for the rest of this year will be based on an annual figure of $16,000 and increased at the rate of $1,000 a year for the succeeding four years. This year, as president of Monterey Peninsula Junior College, Dr. Flint's salary is $12,675.

Highlanders Will Appeal Permit To Supervisors

The Carmel Highlands Association on Monday evening decided to protest to the Board of Supervisors the December 17 county planning commission decision allowing Santa Barbara landscape architect Ralph Stevens to change a dwelling in the Highlands from single family to multiple-family use. Appointed to represent the Highlands Association before the supervisors was a committee consisting of Highlands residents Dr. Henry Houghton, Dr. David Fink, John Schroeder and Colonel Alfred S. Balsam. The Board of Supervisors on Tuesday set January 20 as the date of the protest hearing.

Malcolm Millard, chairman of the advisory committee to the county planning commission for the Highlands area, reported to Association members on Monday night the decision of the county planning commission. He stated that this decision was in opposition to the desires of the advisory committee, the Highlands Association and the county planning commission's technical staff. Previously both the committee and the Association had unanimously opposed changing the residence into multiple dwelling use, Mr. Millard emphasized.

County Planning Commissioner Keith Evans told the Pine Cone this morning that the county commission felt it was a "reasonable compromise" to allow the change from single dwelling to duplex use when they considered the matter on December 17. Mr. Stevens had asked for a use permit to convert the former Bigelow home, across from commercially zoned Tickle Pink Motor Inn in the Highlands, to multiple use, claiming that the Inn partially blocks his view and prevents the house from being sold as a single family residence, due to proximity of commercial development.

Granting of a use permit for the "duplex" would not be an extension of commercial zoning, Commissioner Evans pointed out, and was a desirable "fringe" use of the property, according to county planning commission thinking.

Captain Page Is Now "Inspector" Will Move Away

Captain Gerald Page, head of the California Highway Patrol in this area, has been promoted to the rank of inspector and will leave his Salinas office in time to take over his new District 10 duties in San Bernardino on January 31.

Captain Page has been a Carmel resident since coming here in March 1946. His present home is in Carmel Woods and he has no intention of selling it.

"I can think of no better place to which I can retire than Carmel," he told the Pine Cone this morning.

Mrs. Page is accompanying her husband to San Bernardino. Captain and Mrs. Page's two children are both graduates of Carmel High School. Their daughter, Mrs. Harry Plett (Nancy), is now living in Millbrae and their son, Arthur, is an ensign in the Navy, serving as a naval aviator on the carrier USS Essex, at present at sea with the Atlantic fleet.

"Both children were appalled that we might not have a home in Carmel," said Captain Page, "and I have lived here longer than any other place in my entire life. I came to the Salinas Highway Patrol Office at my own request. When I was promoted to captain I was transferred from Pasadena to Eureka but during the six months I was in Eureka I asked and obtained a transfer to Monterey county.

The Carmel Lions And Mrs. Leidig Do Well On Tree Sales

The Carmel Lions Club Youth Fund is fatter by $540 as a result of the club's Christmas Tree sale. Charles Seaver and Michael Balazs, executives in charge, saw to it that every Lion contributed time and labor transporting the trees from the mountains to the sales lot at Junipero and Ocean, price tagging, and selling. Florence Leidig was an unexpected bonanza.

Since the Lion volunteer salesmen have businesses of their own to look after and the two weeks before Christmas is not a slack time, sales hours for the Christmas trees were limited to 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock daily, noon to 6:00 o'clock week ends. But it didn't work out exactly that way.

The first morning the trees appeared on the lot and every morning thereafter people would spot the trees, find one they liked, pick up the price tag, then look around for somebody to pay. Nearest place of human occupancy is Florence Leidig's real estate office in the theatre building next to the lot. Mrs. Leidig made the first Christmas tree sale for the Lions and many thereafter. "People would come in and want to give me money for the trees; so I took it."

The Lions are properly grateful. At their Tuesday night meeting at Tom's Cafe they approved the following letter.

December 21, 1957

Dear Mrs. Leidig:

I am writing, on behalf of the members of the Carmel Lions Club, to thank you for the very wonderful assistance you have given us in our Christmas Tree sales project. You have certainly been, in our opinion, a "one-man" team all on your own, and what we would have done without your help is hard to visualise.

We are indeed grateful for what you have done, and if, at any time in the future, you might feel our Club and its members can be of help to you, please call on us, as we shall always feel obligated to you.

We wish you a very happy Christmas and prosperous New Year.

Very Sincerely yours,
George Dear, Secretary.

Mildred Kaucher In Carmel Valley Pro-League Show

Mildred Kaucher, a member of the Carmel Art Association, and student of Abel Warshawsky, is showing at the Carmel Valley Inn in an exhibit by the northern California section of the American Artists' Professional League. Miss Kaucher is known for her paintings of underwater fantasies, cats, and seashore settings as well as her work in portraits. Her entries include Gems of Ocean, Woodland Madonna, a portrait Oldtimer, a Victorian composition Under the Gaslight, and miniatures of cats and of Carmel marine scenes. She won the blue ribbon award in 1957 in portraits at the Artists' Guild of Santa Clara County at the County Fair in San Jose.

Others exhibiting at the Inn include Cecil F. Chamberlin, Dorothy Kaucher, and Geneva Stark of Los Gatos, Edna Drews of San Francisco, Albin Kern of Millbrae, and Jane Coffin and Gladys Howland of Santa Cruz. Mr. Chamberlin is president of the Santa Cruz Art Association, and a national exhibitor, especially of marines. Dorothy Kaucher, professor emeritus of the Fine Arts Division of San Jose State College, specializes in flowers; Edna Drews in desert painting, Albin Kern, a former student of the Royal School of Art in Munich, in murals, still life, and scenes of the Sierra. Jane Coffin is a four times winner of awards in sculpture at the International Madonna Festival in Los Angeles, and Gladys Howland, student of Claude Buck, has shown in numerous statewide exhibits at Santa Cruz as well as in other California galleries and she is winner of trophy cups in Santa Cruz and San Francisco.

The exhibit will continue through March and is open to the public.

CLASSES FOR EXPECTANT MOTHERS START TUESDAY

A new series of classes for expectant mothers starts on Tuesday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock in the House of Four Winds (Monterey Civic Clubhouse) at 550 Calle Principal. Mrs. Bernice Imwalle, public health nurse of the Monterey County Health Department, will be instructor. The course consists of eight two-hour lessons in the growth and development of the baby throughout nine months of pregnancy, hygiene of pregnancy, preparation for and supplies for the baby, bathing the baby, and appropriate films.

Classes will be held weekly on Tuesday afternoons in the House of Four Winds. To register and obtain further information, telephone the Health Department, FR 2-4583.

The Time Has Come .

by Kippy Stuart

Here we all are, back on the "rock pile," facing a new and, I hope, interesting garden year. To my way of thinking, the most important and most restful day of the year is January 2 of any year.

The garden pruning season is upon us and we, in this locality, are faced with problems beyond the imagination. Who, in their right senses, is going to prune a rose bush that insists upon remaining in full bloom? Roses are supposed to listen to reason and go to sleep in January. My crop of roses continues to astonish me with garlands of flowers, yet I know perfectly well, if I do not prune right now, the spring roses will be inferior. So, here I go with my pruners.

Climbing roses should be pruned of most lateral branches, leaving only the standing canes that cling to trellis and fence. It is easy to distinguish between the new and old wood. New wood will have a greenish cast; old wood will be dark brown with grey bark. Cut away as many of the old canes as you can, leaving only about five upstanding branches for support. It is difficult for any of us to realize that the deeper the pruning, the more roses will flourish.

Standing or bush roses are pruned away down toward the ground. It would scare you to death to watch a professional prune your roses, but the more old branches that are cut away, the more new branches pop out.

Tree and bush shrubs should not scare the gardener. Pruning is simple, provided certain rules are followed. The reason for cutting back in the winter months is to assure sun and air getting to the center of plant. All branches that cross over or point toward center of plant should be cut back. Tall, leggy whips that have shot up from the center of tree should be nipped, thus bringing strength to new wood.

Pruning deciduous fruit trees is another matter. Each fruit bearing tree needs a different method of pruning, because different fruits have different patterns. If you have fruit bearing trees in your garden, write to the Department of Agriculture at the University of California, Berkeley. Their pamphlets for pruning are expert and anyone can learn the trick of pruning by studying these pamphlets.

So . . ."off to work we go". . . . I hope singing the song of Snow White and her Dwarfs.

Jean Canada Soloist For Little Symphony

On Tuesday evening mezzo-soprano Jean Canada sang the Mahler Kindertotenlieder songs as soloist with the San Francisco Little Symphony directed by Gregory Millar. The concert was given in Wheeler Auditorium in Berkeley and will be repeated next Tuesday evening in the Veterans' Auditorium in San Francisco.

Last spring Mrs. Canada sang this same music with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, also directed by Mr. Millar, as winner of auditions held here under Symphony policy to present local artists of outstanding talent on one Symphony program each year. She was also soloist for All Saints' Episcopal Church Christmas pageant and has appeared as soloist with the Carmel Chamber Music Society. Next Month Jean Canada will have one of the solo roles in the Verdi Requiem to be presented here by the Civic Chorus at Sunset Auditorium.

four hours before it would have been too late to do so. Yet he describes himself as an unintuitive man who has never had any strange, otherworldly or psychical experiences; and indeed has spent most of his life in the most intensive and exacting type of scientific work kown to modern man, namely surgery.

In this country, which the Lehmann's entered in April, 1939, Dr. Lehmann was unable to practise medicine. Although he passed the New York medical examinations and got a license, he was not given the courtesy of using the hospitals there. Consequently, he retired to Carmel, a move which he has never regretted.

As Mrs. Lehmann put it, "Being retired gave Dr. Lehmann an opportunity to study and think about many things that he had never before had the leisure for".

Dr. Lehmann's main interest in this country has been in following development in cancer research. He has come to feel, in the years since his retirement, that most physicians are too orthodox and hide-bound in their methods and concepts. He is extremely interested in results obtained by the Dr. Hoxsey method. This method, which has been condemned by the American Medical Association, has nevertheless worked in many cases in which orthodox methods have failed, he said. The Hoxsey method, according to Dr. Lehmann, consists of taking pills compounded of extractions from roots and herbs, and of going on a diet. Dr. Lehmann does not say that the Dr. Hoxsey method is "the answer" but insists that it does get results, in some cases, and that when investigated by ten physicians in April, 1954 at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, it was endorsed by them.

Dr. Lehmann feels that cancer is a disease of the organism as a whole, rather than merely a localized growth, and that that is why the orthodox methods, X-ray and surgery, have failed in so many cases.

Unfortunately, Dr. Lehmann added, most of the cases which go to Dr. Hoxsey are so advanced as to be almost hopeless; so there have been many failures. But in some seemingly hopeless cases there have been apparent cures.

This is a significant fact in itself; and Dr. Lehmann feels that the A.M.A. is mistaken in condemning a method which it has not thoroughly investigated.

"People who are in favor of unorthodox methods are persecuted by orthodox medicine", Dr. Lehmann went on. "I think in ten or twenty years there won't be any cancer operations any more; or shall I say there will be less surgery".

Dr. Lehmann feels that diet is extremely important, and says many arthritic cases as well as cancer cases have been cured by a change in diet. "Let us change the diet of human beings entirely", he says. "The body is intoxicated and let us get rid of that toxemia".

Incidentally, Dr. Lehmann has less than sixty-one monographs and articles to his credit on such highly technical subjects as The Treatment of Tetanus in Animals with Magnesiumsulphate, Results and Experiences of 115 Operations for Injuries of the Peripheral Nerves, The Sensible Fibres of the Anterior Spinal Roots and Their Relationship to the Sensibility of the Visceral Organs, and so on.

Dr. Lehmann has also occupied himself with new developments in the field of para-psychology, otherwise known as psychical research. He is impressed by the study Dr. Rhine at Duke University has made on such phenomena as mental telepathy, clairvoyance and the ability of the human mind to control external objects, as exemplified in the dice experiment. Dr. Lehmann has carried on an extensive correspondence with Dr. Rhine in the past few years.

Mrs. Lehmann also studied to be a doctor but gave up the practise of medicine in favor of marrying Dr. Lehmann. The Lehmanns have raised two sons, Klaus and Hans. Klaus is in Hollywood where he works in a T.V. studio, and Hans is in San Francisco working for the Emporium. The latter is interested in business management.

The Lehmann family say they would not exchange Carmel for any other place in the world, and they have lived in Cannes, on the French Riviera, and recently made a trip back to Europe. On their last trip abroad, the Lehmanns had a visit with King Zog who is now living in Cannes where he is in exile since the Russian occupation of Albania.

Morse To Recruit Helpers In Drive For New Hospital

Recruitment of a peninsula-wide organization to solicit funds for the proposed $2,000,000 new Peninsula Community Hospital, to be erected north of the Pacific Grove-Carmel highway intersection with Highway 1, is scheduled to begin soon, it was announced this week.

This was revealed by S. F. B. Morse, general campaign chairman, soon after he accepted the head campaign post last Tuesday, who pointed out he'd have to "sit down with the other people involved and do some planning."

In a letter to Mr. Morse, in which he expressed the hospital Board of Directors' appreciation for accepting the chairmanship of the drive, Dr. Jesse Feiring Williams, board president, said:

"I have just learned that you have accepted the post of general chairman of the Community Hospital Fund drive. This insures the success of the campaign.

"Both, you and Mrs. Morse, have been and are the best friends of the hospital. Now, by accepting the general chairmanship, you give assurance that the board is right in seeking means to establish here on the Peninsula a fine modern hospital—a hospital which cannot only meet the growing human needs of this area but also, in time, become an outstanding hospital center."

In accepting the leadership in the drive, Morse said:

"I believe in this (the hospital fund drive) very much. I think that an adequate community hospital is something we ought to have. The present facilities are certainly inadequate.

"To raise that much money is not easy, but in a community of this size, I think we can make it."

William Concolino, Monterey architect, is now preparing preliminary plans for the new hospital, to be designated to house at least 100 beds at first, but to be expandable to 200 beds as demands increase.

Janus At Circle Theatre

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

Janus, the modern Broadway Play by Carolyn Green, was launched Friday at the Circle Theatre. The Roman divinity from whom our January is named, Janus represented a wide outlook with his two faces pointing in opposite directions and was said to be the God of good beginnings that would insure good endings! These significances seemed to fit into the play which, unlike most sophisticated plays of today, which end in some kind of a shambles or impossible and unsolved social tangle, resolves neatly. It is an excellent light comedy that revolves into domestic and literary harmony after the typhoon brought about by the sudden appearance of the woman's husband at the hide-a-way of the literary collaborators when he was supposed to be gone on the Pacific.

The advanced principles of the woman, whose faithfulness and integrity with both men is honestly declared and lived, creates situations for the successful literary partners that provoke keen humor. After the clever woman has proven her capacity of being a greater though, unconcious sleuth than the Internal Revenue Man who precipitates, and complicates the affair, the men capitulate to her viewpoint. Clever quips and suspense in the dialogue of the five parts are projected by four of our most experienced local actors and one new member of the group, who keep the audience continually laughing.

Anne McElroy Fry has not done anything better that I have seen. Her Jessica is alive and convincing and the intended charm of the character is strongly there both in language and facial expression, with the subtlety and spontaneity of which she is always capable. Playing a long part, she keeps the suspense at fever height with her naval husband and the quieter schoolmaster, her acting carrying conviction of the honesty that her husband finally perceives. Dick Lieberth as Gil the husband, on his way to a Government call to Washington, fills the role of the forthright and puzzled husband with disarming simplicity. He received special applause at his final exit. Denny, the language master, collaborating with Jessica and winning success and enormous sums with their books is portrayed by Bertrand d'Ayenas in complete sympathy with the complications to the point of convincing Jessica's husband that their "affair" has helped to preserve his marriage.

Virginia Beattie as Miss Addy, the authors' agent, who has reaped a harvest from their success is a whole comedy in herself and takes the stage with her usual aplomb. Bob Kaller in his first acting as Mr. Harper, the Internal Revenue Investigator, is excellent in his grasp and manner of the role, and from whom some of the workings of the unwelcome U.S. functionary are revealed. Altogether this play is one of the best comedies given at the Circle, finely cast and directed by Charlotte Perry of the Perry-Mansfield School of Theatre and Dance at Steamboat Springs, Colorado, who fortunately spends her winters in Carmel. We hope for more plays guided by Miss Perry. Her production staff includes Richard Bailey, stage-manager; Richard Rodriquez, production assistant; Ellen Rosser, properties; Ruth Velissaratos, photography; hairstyling, Henry Hairstylist; master-carpenter, Church Chappell; sets, Richard Bailey. Michel McKay, managing director.

SLATTERY WINS FIRST ROUND

President Fremont Slattery won the first round of the Carmel Toastmasters Speech contest at a dinner-meeting last week at Tom's Cafe. His subject was My New Year's Resolution. Other speakers were Ted Minnis, Richard A. Brown and Joe Wythe. By speech rules, topics are assigned contestants only 48 hours in advance. Elimination speech contests will continue for another three weeks with the finals scheduled for January 30, ladies' night.

Lloyd Campbell was Toastmaster for the evening, Clem Trapkus was Table Topics Master and Howard Reed was the evaluator. The public is invited to attend Toastmasters meetings.

The National and Monterey Peninsula Audubon Societies will present Cleveland P. Grant and his all color movie Yukon Indian Summer at Sunset Auditorium on January 16 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Grant is well known to Peninsula audiences from previous Audubon lectures and also from his mountain sheep anvil chorus sequence in Disney's Vanishing Prairie. He is a superb photographer and uses the best equipment.

This tour, the third of the present season's world wide presentations, covers Alaska mostly from the military highway. Besides the multitude of wildlife, Mr. Grant presents the Indian culture in a colorful way. This film is the result of three Indian Summers and 30,000 miles of traveling, and is the twenty-fifth wildlife film Mr. Grant has produced in the last 25 years.

A dinner, for Mr. and Mrs. Grant, will be held preceding the movie, at Holiday Inn, at 6:00 o'clock. Members and friends wishing to attend are requested to phone the Inn, MA 4-6533.

Big, bright, beautiful lamps give your rooms a decorator look

There's no missing the new table lamps. They're as big as they are handsome. Interior decorators consider these lamps as furniture . . . and like furniture, they should be purchased in groups that harmonize in size, in period, in finish. But above all else, use the right size bulb. These tall table lamps need the new three-way sizes: 30-200-230 or 50-200-250 watt. Then, instead of gloom and glare, you have a soft, even illumination that adds new glamour to furniture, fabrics and you!

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

In the passing of Edward Weston, this village has sustained an irreparable loss. The library is justly proud of its collection of Weston prints which hang in the reading room and were a gift to the town by Jean Kellogg about a year ago. We believe that there may be other Weston prints in this area which might be gathered together here in the library as a fitting memorial to Edward Weston. If any reader of this column has Weston prints which he is willing to give to the town, we urge that he bring them to the library and allow them to be incorporated into the library collection.

We have an unusual array of books illustrated with photographs this week. There seems to be much demand for this panoramic sort of book, and these are examples of the best. One is entitled The Lawless Decade and it was edited by Paul Sann. Pictorially it covers the period from the Armistice of World War I to the New Deal. These are the pictures of the people who made news during those hectic days from 1920 through 1929. The arrangement is largely chronological.

There is also A Pictorial History of the American Circus by John and Alice Durant. Beginning with the old world roots of the circus, with drawings of circus performers in ancient Egypt and in Rome, the authors trace the development of this spectacular form of entertainment through to the present day. Here are the performers, the freaks, the great men of the circus world. For circus lovers, this book is a must.

Finally we have the last two volumes of Year, the Annual Picture History. These two volumes cover 1956 and 1957, the latter being just issued. Events of newsworthy import are all recorded here in pictures and in script, and the books are so fascinating you will have difficulty laying them aside.

Two other pieces of non-fiction seem to need mention here. One is Constantinople by Harold Lamb, who is the author of many books based upon history. This is the history of Constantinople and the birth of an empire, that of Justinian the Great. The other book to be mentioned here today is America's National Parks by Nelson Keyes. Largely pictorial, this book covers all of the large national parks in this country and Canada. America's heritage of natural beauty is pictured here.

A collection of wise and witty essays by Andre Maurois is entitled To an Unknown Lady. Maurois discourses upon many phases of life today, especially in France, and his gentle conclusions are wise and sane.

There are novels in this week's collection, two of them mysteries. Don't forget that when the rains come and you want good books to read beside your fire, the Errand Boy will bring them to you by arrangement with this library and then return your books to the library if they are ready when he brings the new lot.

New Navy Research Facility At Big Sur Now In Operation

A newly-constructed Naval Facility at Point Sur, 20 miles south of Carmel, was placed in commission Wednesday, it was announced today by the Headquarters, Twelfth Naval District.

Eight officers and 89 enlisted men under the command of Lieutenant Donald E. Chapman, USN, man the installation which will collect oceanographic research data for the Navy.

The Point Sur facility will be a permanent installation with buildings of concrete block construction. Included are an administration building, quarters and messing facilities and a dozen auxiliary units.

AT TOWN HOUSE

On Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, a color film, with sound, will be shown at Carmel Foundation Town House depicting two of the world's most beautiful Christmas stories as acted by Mabel Beaton marionetts. The stories are The Nativity and The Night Before Christmas. This film is shown by courtesy of Leslie C. Deck, back after a serious illness.

On Monday afternoon the Booklovers will hold their first meeting of the new year. There will be election of officers and a talk by Dr. Fred L. Farley with the subject: Browning's Balaustion's Adventure and Aristophanes' Apology.

The paintings of Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs and Mrs. Gertrude Putnam will continue on exhibit during January. The Town House hours are 10:00 to 5:00 o'clock Monday through Friday.

Jesse Owens Is Speaker In MPC Free Lecture Series

Jesse Owens, former Olympic champion and social worker, will speak at the Monterey Peninsula College Armory tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock. There is no admission charge.

Topic of his speech is Youth Must Be Served. Owens is one of two persons to have won four gold medals, the highest number ever won in modern Olympic competition. He is considered the greatest track and field star in the past fifty years.

Today Owens is serving as a leader in the movement to inspire athletically-minded young men and women with the principles of sportmanship and fair play. He is now serving as a member of the Illinois Athletic Commission and an administrative assistant to that state's Youth Commission.

Owen's address is under the auspices of the evening series of lectures and special events. The next event of the series is an address by Mortimer J. Adler on January 25.

Bells And Paris For Alice

Alice Williams, attending Ecole d'Humanite in Goldern-Hasliberg in the Swiss mountain country, writes her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams, of a local custom which demands that all young men of the region, each night between Christmas and New Year's, go through the snowy valleys ringing cowbells to dispel evil spirits that may have come to dwell in their midst during the old year.

Alice is at present in Paris visiting Mrs. Frank Pitelka, who summers in Carmel. Dorothy Pitelka, a protozoologist, is working at the Laboratoire d'Evolution at the Sorbonne on a cancer research project. Her three children are with her in France and her husband, Dr. Frank Pitelka, ornithologist with the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology at the University of California, commutes most weekends across the Channel from Oxford University where he is giving seminars.

Dan On Dean's List

George Daniel Marshall of Pebble Beach has been named to the Dean's List at Yale University. He is a sophomore in the liberal arts college, working for a bachelor's degree in mathematics. To be named to the Dean's list a student in the liberal arts school must be in the top 25 percent of his class. Dan is the son of George D. Marshall, Jr. of Pebble Beach, and a 1957 graduate of Carmel High School. He was assistant organist at All Saints' Episcopal Church during his high school years.

John Sully Married

Captain and Mrs. Archer M. R. Allen arrived home in Carmel on Saturday evening from Texas where they both attended the wedding of Mrs. Allen's son, John Sully, and Miss Dorothy Seeger, in Saint Patrick's Cathedral in El Paso on December 27. Captain Allen also visited his son-in-law and daughter, Rear Admiral and Mrs. William Allen, in Austin, before the wedding.

James Sully flew from Los Angeles to be best man at his brother's wedding and drove back to Carmel with the Allens, remaining here until yesterday.

The bride and groom are living in Chowchilla, Texas, where both are on the faculty of Chowchilla High School, the groom teaching history, and the bride music and Latin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Seeger of El Paso and a graduate of Mills College. Attending her at her wedding was her former Mills classmate, Jeanne Windberg.

The groom is a graduate of Carmel High School and Santa Clara University and did postgraduate work at the University of California.

The Belchers' Varied Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Belcher first explored the Mendocino county coast on the two weeks' vacation from which they returned on Saturday. They were accompanied on their travels by Miss Sophie Harpe.

They all stayed at Casa del Noyo on the Noyo River near Fort Bragg, then, after a brief return to Carmel, left again for Yosemite to see the skiing at Badger Pass and enjoy the Sierra winter snow mantle.

Gay Morris Royal Ballet Student

Carmel High School senior Gay Morris will study at the Royal Ballet School in London next year. Word of her acceptance as a student by the former Sadler's Wells group was received by her Carmel teacher, Joanne Nix, on Tuesday afternoon. Gay is the daughter of Mrs. Leroy Dufur of Carmel Valley. She has been a student of Joanne Nix for six years, danced the solo part in Les Sylphides this year and the part of the Snow Queen in last year's Christmas ballet. She was also the winner of the Kiwanis Club talent contest this summer.

Gay will leave here sometime this summer to be in England for the opening of the Royal Ballet School in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel Settled

Occupying a house on Camino Real this week were Mr. and Mrs. Gray Squirrel who moved in while the owners were away. Mrs. Ada O'Malley discovered the new tenants on Monday when she heard a noise in the house which she had been asked "to keep an eye on" during the owner's absence. Investigating the disturbance Mrs. O'Malley discovered Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel "having a gay old time" when she peeked through a window.

One of the uninvited guests was climbing up the window draperies while the other defiantly eyed Mrs. O'Malley from the dining room table. Mrs. O'Malley could do nothing about them — she had no key. But she reported the intruders to relatives of the persons who own the house and spent the rest of the day amused at the antics of the housebreakers who cavorted through the living room, dining room and kitchen with gay abandon, upsetting flowerpots in their mad scampers.

Donning her Sherlock Holmes hat, Mrs. O'Malley deduced, from outside, that Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel had used the chimney to gain entry. She noticed the firescreen was askew with telltale ashes on the hearth.

Carmel police evicted one housebreaker towards evening, the other culprit they could not find. Mrs. O'Malley earlier noticed a completely exhausted squirrel on her garage roof and, with the aid of her deerstalker hat, decided the squirrel missed by the police had escaped by climbing out of the chimney.

Michael Stanton Off To Orient

Airman Michael Stanton left on the carrier USS Hornet from San Francisco on Monday for a six months' tour of duty in the Orient. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton went to San Francisco on Sunday to see their son before he left. Michael has been in the Navy for a year and is eagerly anticipating his present sea duty, they report.

Johnstons Return To New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. (Pete) Johnston and daughters Ziabe and Carole flew the polar route from France to Carmel arriving here a few days before Christmas and are now unpacking and settling in their new home at San Carlos and Santa Lucia Streets. Mrs. Johnston had seen her new house for about ten minutes before she left for a visit with her family in Paris five months ago. Two days before Mr. Johnston left in September, to join her and his daughters, he moved their furniture into the house. Since arriving home the Johnstons have been delightedly discovering things on their property which they didn't know existed, such as a garden sprinkling system and an orange tree, bearing fruit, which had been overgrown by vines, "I shall be able to make marmalade from my own oranges", says Mrs. Johnston.

The first day Mrs. Johnston was in France she broke her ankle in an automobile accident and spent a month of her visit with her foot in a cast. Five year old Ziabe, as a result of her five months abroad, now speaks English with a French accent, reports her mother, and two year old Carole understands both French and English.

Faulkners Have Five Children

Professor and Mrs. Frank D. Faulkner have four sons and one daughter since the birth of Robert Gordon at the Peninsula Community Hospital on December 31. Mary Alice, Robert's sister, is eight years old and his brothers are David, 14; Harold, 13, and Billie, six years old.

The Faulkners came to Carmel six years ago when Professor Faulkner joined the staff of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School when it opened. Grandparents of the new baby are Mr. and Mrs. Marion Faulkner of Severy, Kansas, and Mr. George Hellmer of Olpe, Kansas.

with the three superintendents of the public schools and representatives of the private and parochial schools to decide on the scope of the study, objectives of the study and methods of the study."

Monterey and Pacific Grove school trustees and superintendents were eager and insistent for a Peninsula-wide education survey, bringing the citizens in on the act. They said the Monterey people and press had been putting pressure on them because of Sputnik. This has not been the case in Carmel.

Also, Carmel has just completed a year-long survey of its own district and is in the process of implementing the recommendations that grew out of the findings, which were, in effect that Carmel has a school system head and shoulders above most but there are always ways of being better. (The Pine Cone will give you a full report on this survey in its next issue.) Carmel's need for an amateur survey on top of the professional job just accomplished is not very pressing. Also, Carmel school system will be very busy absorbing the Valley districts should the latter vote to leave Monterey and join Carmel in Tuesday's election. A Peninsula-wide survey will put an additional burden on the administration and teaching staff.

Carmel trustees were understandably quiet and thoughtful during the speech making of the over-the-hill people. But they expressed a willingness to co-operate in the proposed survey.

Monterey and Pacific Grove spokesmen seemed to feel that the survey was needed, not because there was anything the matter with their schools—"though there is always room for improvement" —but because their people were blaming the schools for Sputnik, and the survey would be a golden opportunity to dispel public ignorance regarding the schools and get tax support for more buildings and better teacher-pay while the people were interested.

Enid Larson, science teacher at Carmel High School, offered some statistics as to what is involved in a curriculum survey. The instructional staff in the Carmel School system put in 800 teacher-hours on the survey just completed for Carmel. Sixteen teachers worked on it over a period of a year, and they made up only one of four committees.

Gordon Knoles, who presided at the meeting, agreed that to be any good the work involved is "monumental but we should do something."

Public Pre-election Meeting Monday

children and property owners, having any unsolved questions, are asked to forward such queries, immediately, by mail, to the Carmel Valley Association, Box 157, Carmel Valley, California. These questions will be researched in advance and fully answered at Monday evening's forum meeting in the Community Center. Oral questions may also be presented at the forum for impromptu answers, according to Dudley Swim, president of the Carmel Valley Association.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The vital importance of following the example of the Master, Christ Jesus, in our thoughts and actions will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (5:8): "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (37:22-25): "It is possible, yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man and woman, to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

From the Bible will be read the following (Mark 16:15): "And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

Mayor John Chitwood of Carmel has proclaimed this as official March of Dimes month in Carmel. James Rowe has been named fund chairman of the area, and the Mothers' March is under the direction of Mrs. Dexter Whitcomb. It will take place Friday evening, January 31.

This is the 20th anniversary of the March of Dimes which was started January 3, 1938 by the late president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was himself a polio victim. Theme of this year's drive is Survival Is Not Enough, and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is so that patients may learn to live useful lives in society.

Although the rate of polio in Carmel, and the nation has diminished considerably since the general use of the Salk vaccine, there are still some 80,000 Americans who have had infantile paralysis and need further aid.

Earl Dewar

Earl Dewar died on Monday morning in a local hospital after a short illness. He was born in Louisville, Minnesota, on December 10, 1885. Until he retired and came to live in Pebble Beach in 1946, Mr. Dewar was employed by the London Assurance Company of London, England, and made his home in Spokane, Washington. He was a member of All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Survivors are his wife, Elise, of Pebble Beach; a foster son, Frank Dale Allen of San Francisco; a brother, John Dewar of Louisville, Minnesota; and a sister, Mrs. J. Spencer of Winnebago, Minnesota.

Funeral services, conducted by the Reverend Angus Dun Jr., rector of All Saints' Church, were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Burial followed in El Carmelo Cemetery.

Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Monterey College To Hold Placement Tests On Saturday

Placement tests for new day students registering at Monterey Peninsula College next semester will be given on Saturday, in room L-10 on the campus.

The tests, given from 9:00 to 12:00 o'clock, will include scholastic aptitude, reading, and English, according to Arla DeHart, dean of students.

Math, science, and engineering students registering for the first time next semester will be required to take an additional one and one-half hour examination in the afternoon of the same day.

These placement tests, given for the first time in MPC's history, are required of all new students planning to enroll in eight units or more. There is no charge for the tests.

Instruction for the spring semester begins February 3.

Fred Stockton Opens Guitar Studio Here

Guitarist Fred Stockton has opened studios in Carmel in the Ricketts Building, San Carlos Street, opposite Thrift Market. Mr. Stockton, who maintains his principal studios at San Jose, will spend each Wednesday in Carmel, at first interviewing, and later instructing a selected number of local pupils.

Fred Stockton, who studied his instrument in Mexico City with Luis Elorriaga, has given classic guitar recitals at San Francisco's Veterans' Auditorium, the Marines' Memorial Auditorium, at the Little Theatre in Berkeley, and at Sacramento. In the field of popular music, he once toured with the Abe Lyman dance band. He has been a member of the Portland Symphony Orchestra as well.

The Stocktons maintain their home in San Jose, and plan to commute weekly to Carmel. The family consists of Josephine Stockton, and the couple's son, Donald, 16, a San Jose High School student, and a daughter, Betty Lou, 18, who attends Junior College in the Santa Clara Valley city.

In his Carmel studio Fred Stockton will be associated with Don Amori, of his San Jose staff.

SHORE CAMEO

Night planned star-jewel edging to trim her tatted tide, but no wind flowed to pattern and no word glowed to guide, for dark spoke only silence, ocean-wide.

Then moonlight lifted stillness to hum an opal note that night could shirr to scallops of cadence round the throat, with ruffles crisping her plum petticoat.

—HELEN FAULKNER.

TO THE THAMES

Between gray docks and grimy walls
And under bridges to the sea,
Past Parliament and past St. Paul's
You wind in regal pageantry.

In musings of your ancient tide,
Men's destinies are daily spun,
From song and history that glide
A silver highway in the sun.

Ships ride your noble flood, and fate,
Magnificence and woe and fame,
Upon the mystery, old and great,
That changing ever stays the same.

—WALDEN GARRATT.

AN ARRANGEMENT OF A ROOSTER

Surrealistic rooster,
Conjured from the genius
That is man:

Metallic mobile artwork
Of red comb and wattles,
Of black wire and tin
And sprig of bright plastic,
Balanced touchy for a draft
To bob, gyrate and twist
Its animated form — portrayal
Of the living bird.

Uh-oh, huffs the breath
Of time; the rooster crumbles,
To rearrange again
Like flowers in a vase;
To remodel with deft hands
That which is, God-given.
Metal, flower, atomic orbit,
The man but rearranges.

—E. W. NORTHNAGEL.

Council Still Wants Citizens' Group To Confuse Annexation

Mayor John Chitwood took note at last night's City Council meeting of varying statements made concerning the possibility of the appointment of a citizens' committee to advise the Council concerning possible annexation of adjoining unincorporated areas. He said he had talked with "representatives of the press" concerning such a committee, but that he had so far only stated his own personal views in the matter, namely, that there is no hurry about it. He added that he wished to have the guidance of Council members before discussing the matter further.

Councilman Carl Patnude said he felt that the Council had never had adequate specific knowledge about the facts — and the ifs-ands-and-buts — in the entire annexation question. He said that it was, therefore, his suggestion that a citizens' committee be appointed to look into the matter in considerable detail. He was supported by the other councilmen, James Buffington, Allen Knight, and Thomas May.

Mayor Chitwood pointed out that there was going to be a postal-card poll taken in the adjacent unincorporated areas by Carmel Unincorporated, and that the possible appointment of the committee mentioned could be held in abeyance until the poll had been checked. Councilman Patnude said that it would be likely that various piecemeal efforts at annexation would be brought before the Council from time to time even if the Carmel Unincorporated poll were to prove negative.

After it was decided that a citizens' committee should be appointed at a future time, further discussion concerning the committee was postponed until the next regular City Council meeting.

Group Forms For Science Education

that our culture depends greatly upon the the method and content of science for its survival and progress," Dr. Gillette said. "The proposed Monterey Peninsula Association for the Advancement of Science and Mathematics Education provides members of local communities an opportunity for assuring that the Monterey Peninsula meets its responsibilities in this area."

The meeting has been called by an interim committee, a group of individuals engaged in various science and mathematics-centered activities locally. Members of the the interim committee are: Dr. Gillette, Col. Richard E. Anderson, Mary Louise Brooks, Harold Colwell, Dr. Eugene Crittenden, Eleanor Crouch, Virginia Johnson, Sydney Kalmbach, Enid Larson, Dr. Abraham Sheingold, E. Warren Seibel, Edward Stockton, and Dr. Cornelius Van Neil.

Letters . . .

Below is a copy of a letter addressed to Milton Frimke, superintendent of Point Lobos and Carmel River Beach State Parks. It reflects the sentiment of a number of Carmel people who have spoken to us about the black top parking area the state has made on the dunes at the Carmel River Beach. A parking place is necessary but did it have to be put in with no regard for aesthetic values? —W. C.

Dear Mr. Frimke,

I have just come from a walk to the Carmel River Beach and I must tell you that I am shocked at the way the new parking area has been handled.

Frankly, with its black-top covering, it looks exactly like an airstrip. Why was it considered necessary to bull-doze such an enormous space, destroying in the process so much natural growth and encroaching so far upon the beach.

Why the black-top covering? Why not a covering that would have melted in coloring into the surrounding sand?

My chief hope, now, is that something will be done to camouflage the bareness and ugliness of the site.

I am writing to you, Mr. Frimke, because I am told that you are a sympathetic and well-disposed person, and that you are as anxious as any of us to help preserve the natural beauty of a place of which we are all justly proud.

Sincerely,
Flavia L. Flavin.

O'Keeffe Sanity Hearing Dismissed

Monterey County District Attorney Edward K. Barnes asked Superior Court Judge Stanley Lawson on Tuesday to dismiss the scheduled sanity hearing of Walter F. O'Keeffe, victim of a brutal, near fatal beating on December 19. O'Keeffe was transferred to the county hospital from the Peninsula Community Hospital when he became difficult to control. Later he was released to another Salinas hospital. Barnes said doctors told him O'Keeffe's mental condition was improving.

O'Keeffe's doctor says he must undergo a second brain operation for an abscess and that a scalp graft will be necessary after the surgery. O'Keeffe, 52 year old proprietor of a Carmel contemporary home furnishing business, received severe skull fractures in a beating given him in his San Carlos Street home by an unknown assailant.

Council Says No To More Street Lights

suitably dim-lit streets.

Howard Healey, who has repeatedly asked for permission to place identification signs in excess of legal size at his motor court, was told to take his sign application back to the city planning commission for further study. The planning commission has already said "no" to him.

Salary increases for Policeman Lester Fletcher and Street Department foreman William Askew, Jr. were voted, and first reading of a resolution to permit accelerated salary increases in 'unusual circumstances' was heard. Immediate reason for this resolution was the case of Policeman Walter Boyle, veteran law enforcement officer and FBI Police Academy graduate, recently for whom Police Chief Clyde Klaumann thought a faster-than-usual salary step-up would be in order.

What to do about an abandoned shack on Santa Rita Street — on lot 5 in block 15 — had the undivided attention of the Council for a time in last night's long session. It was finally decided that the main problem about the shack was that it was open to wind and weather — and wanderers. To City Attorney John Morse was delegated the matter of working out with Fire Chief Robert Smith ways-and-means to board it up.

With regard to the matter of a suitable drinking fountain at the Harrison Memorial Library, Mayor Chitwood stated that he and Councilman James Buffington, along with Street Superintendent William Askew, would attend the next meeting of the library board to make a decision in that so-far moot matter. City Clerk Larry Rose said he believed money for purchase and installation of the fountain could be taken from the city's contingency fund.

Technical matters concerning established or official grades at various locations occupied a considerable amount of Council time. Specific problems involved an alleged pedestrian hazard on Dolores Street between Second and Fourth, where the street dips sharply. Councilmen Knight and Buffington suggested a 'no parking' formula as a possible solution in the area. A request by Sumral Otrich for the setting of an official grade at his property on San Carlos and Third, drew the response from Councilman Patnude that a grade already has been established there.

Most technical, and possibly least consequential, was an outline of a revision of the city's agreement with Peninsula cities, concerning cost of handling of the municipality's stray-dog-and-cat pick-up-and-care problem, presented by City Clerk Rose.

interested lawyers, to which Wilson had referred, said he could not recall a reference to any suggested six-month trial period, while Chedester and Aebersold, who were in the audience, along with their pharmacist, Robert Steinmetz, invited objectors to come and observe their store's operation.

Following a prolonged, but hard-inflamed discussion of the pros-and-cons in the long disputed Surf 'n Sand matter, Councilman James Buffington moved that further consideration of the Carmel Protective Association's request for City support be postponed until next Wednesday afternoon's adjourned meeting of the Council, and the motion unanimously carried.
